Los Angeles, CA 90020

This training introduces participants to Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT) techniques which can be utilized as suicide prevention tools. It will provide an overview of perceptions, stigma, and risk factors of suicide. The etiology and presentation of suicidality and best practices for safety planning will also be addressed. Additionally, current research on suicide and suicide prevention, as well as identification of the most current resources on suicide is included in the training. Case vignettes provide participants with the opportunity to better conceptualize suicide assessment, CBT techniques and review safety planning with situations specific to the community mental health setting.

TARGET AUDIENCE: DMH directly operated and DMH contract adult providers only

OBJECTIVES: As a result of attending this training, participants should be able to:

1. Identify common misperceptions about suicide and suicide attempts.
2. Discuss some of the negative consequences of the stigma associated with suicide and suicide attempts.
3. List several warning signs for suicide.
4. Identify at least one psychological theory of suicide risk.
5. Discuss ways to assess suicide risk that is sensitive to both proximal and distal risk factors.
6. Explain Cognitive Therapy for Suicide Protocol for the treatment of suicidal behaviors.
